To my readers

Fungus

There was a woman named Mandavi Laxminarayan. She was a Tamilian by birth. Her father was a south Indian orthodox who used to visit a Hindu religious leader. The religious leader claimed he had attained Moksha.

Mr. Laxminarayan was a banker and very religious minded in all his works. He had two kids.

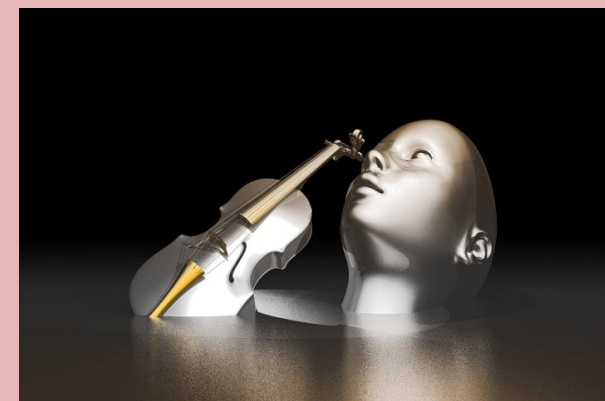

The Elder one, Rocket, was a businessman sold weird food. He used to sell monkey's brain, duck feet, chicken feet, pig's head, fried spider egg, snake wine and snake blood.

Since Chinese businessmen were invading India, he too had a Chinese partner who advised him on Chinese food and suggested marketing to Indian buyers. Many people actually loved it! The generation Y is very open minded and they wanted to taste various cuisines. So, the food factory was a hit!

On home front, his parents especially his father was not at all happy with him. He named him Rocket so that he can be a brilliant rocket scientist, instead he had dug a pit hole of notorious Chinese food and fell for it!

Rocket was a strong minded guy so he ignored his father's advice and irritation and started living separately with his girlfriend who was 8 years his senior and had a son from a previous marriage to a German man.

This was also a matter of conflict with his parents. He once told his father, “it is me who is marrying, not you!”

His father was a man of old values so he was comfortable with his own beliefs. Rocket shifted to a new home and started living with his partner and her child. He used to babysit and change the kid’s nappy. His partner praised him all along for this, but his family was unsure whether to continue their relation with him or to stop contacting fully!

It was his sister Mandavi who always encouraged him and cheered him up. She always supported him in all aspect of life. Though she was younger than him still Rocket used to call her his Mom.

Mandavi had her share of problems. She was a student of astronomy and had fallen in love with one of her professors' who was a widower and quite senior to her. Above all this, the profie never used to have a shower and was very unclean.

Her friends used to laugh at her for her choice but she was madly in love with her profie Dr. Ivor Lang for his cerebral activities and brilliance .

Dr. Lang though was of Chinese origin still he used to speak fluent English not- Chinglish (Chinese kind of English) . This is how many describe Chinese English! He was a regular client of Rocket's weird food factory! He used to praise Rocket for his courage to introduce bizarre cuisine in the Indian terrain.

He further used to say ::The whole commodity world is divided into two types—Chinese and non Chinese. Previously I used to think that only I am made in China but now I can see that most of the human beings are made in China with sharp features !

The profie had a wife called Knatty. She had died in mysterious circumstances. Her body had no scar mark or blood leakage but somehow people felt that she died on the main road due to some kind of shock. Professor Lang was not in the country at that time. He returned heart broken and sad. Ate a lot of fried spider egg and pig head and then went for a year long sleep! Yes! He used to sleep for a long time. Like Kumbhakarna!

People used to tease him by saying:: Hello
Professor Kumbhakarna Ting Ting; your door bell is Ring Ging!!

Mandavi used to visit him regularly at his place. He had a private observatory. He used to teach and show her various new stars, galaxies and milky ways. They have discovered a new planet and have named it DRAMILA.

She enjoyed the lesson as well as his company. One day he told her that he has found a way to travel to parallel universes. There are multiple universes existing, alongside ours.

Traveling to these magical places is called quantum jumping.

He asked her to keep it a secret. He said that people who die here are actually travelling to other universes according to their life energy's vibrations. They attuned to those vibrations and live there for some time and again travel somewhere else or return back on our universe. He has seen his departed wife in such a universe. He claimed to know many people on earth plane, whom he met in other universes before they were physically here.

All these statements kept Mandavi spellbound.

Mandavi was a pretty young lass who had more interest in the object than the subject. But the profie was a failed lover. Neither he spoke of love nor he asked her why she was so keen to take private lessons. Whenever they met he always lectured on deep theories about black holes, dark matters and cosmology.

Nobody knew the deep emotions of his mind which was always into solving nature's mystery and cosmic problems as if human problems does not exist at all!!

One day the professor invited her for lunch at his home. He himself has cooked duck biriyani for her.

Mandavi was a vegetarian but for her love's sake she ate non vegetarian food for the first time. Though her brother Rocket used to run a non vegetarian weird food factory but her whole family was vegetarian. Rocket used to eat chicken and egg but was not into pork and spider egg.

After the meal, the professor gave her a dessert called ling-fing-chon.

Ling-fing-chon was originally prepared from mushroom which can absorb huge amount of vital energy needed to travel to a parallel universe.

Unknowingly, Mandavi consumed a good amount of the dessert. The taste was not very pleasant and had a typical bouncy effect like other mushrooms! But the euphoria which she experienced was enormous!

After eating the food she fell asleep. In deep sleep she went to a parallel universe. It felt like dream but the professor was there, her departed friends and others were also there in blood and flesh.

There was a calm and peace all over.

No one was in hurry. A huge screen was on the side of a lawn. It was a kind of life review. Your desires that you had in that universe manifested for you in the dream!

There was a huge hand like structure which the beings there were calling Quantum Hand.

The hand was pulling and placing all the beings into their respective universes.

She saw her old grandmother who has now become quite young and lovely was dating one of her departed, handsome classmates. In another universe she saw her granny sitting and cooking authentic Arabic dishes for her orthodox current father !

Everyone existed after death. We call it death but in real sense it is travelling to another dimension.

The journey stops here and they take another vehicle and continue to live in another world where they are much more alive and passionate.

The same person or animal can live in multiple other worlds simultaneously.

One is a carpenter in one world, a thief in another, and a sage in the third.

All these universes have separate vibrations. They are attached to a source which has no vibrations at all and is the source of life, peace and all motivations.

It is a prism kind of a thing which is emanating beautiful living light. It was absorbing certain beings who were going towards it and then other new images were coming to life from it!

Spectacular events were taking place!

Mandavi was mesmerized. She asked Professor Lang about the phenomenon. He said that it was the way the universe worked. Actually, they were numerous in count and huge in size. The consciousness continues to exist elsewhere according to the being's choice and priorities.

“We all are connected and same. It is the vibration which keeps us as separate entities”, he said.

After saying all these he offered her to have sex with him in a parallel universe where the rules were not so stringent like this earth plane.

Since he was previously married and she was not it was almost impossible for them to have sex morally in India. But in that parallel universe the rules were not so rigid.

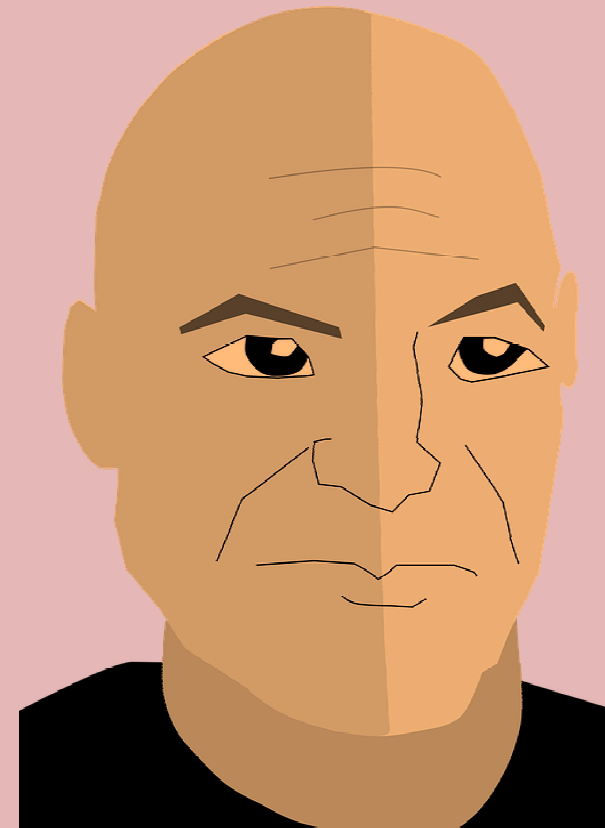

They put a lot of effort on the happiness of mind instead of blind rules.

In that specific universe no one got pregnant either!

They could even materialize the thought instantly!

Mandavi had sex with Professor Lang for one thousand years!!!

When they came back on earth it was only a few seconds then!

The most interesting thing was that Prof. Lang could change any disaster or calamities here on earth by moving the incident on other universes.

When the incident was about to happen on earth there was still time when it would actually take place in other universes!

So, if anyone shuffled the events then and there in that universe then it could not travel to the earth plane and hence the accidents, calamities did not happen.

In this simple way the profie had prevented several disasters, earthquakes and terrorist attacks by shifting his consciousness with the help of quantum hand to the other universes and acting on the event at that time.

Slowly it had become a matter of practice for Mandavi and Lang to change the things that were going to happen here in the earth plane!

Sometimes it was catastrophes, sometimes it was playful dramas and sometimes political scenarios.

Then one fine morning Mandavi came to know that Professor Ivor Lang had been locked into a parallel universe from where there is no coming back to this world or reality!

He had lost the quantum hand which was his tool and man Friday for travelling to other worlds and quantum leaping!

She was surprised. Astronomer Lang was a perfectionist and alert being. So how come his tool was lost and locked in some other place?

But there were no other being who could answer her questions! She felt pity for the professor.

Nowadays they were not into sexual and sensual pleasure anymore but they used to travel to lovely worlds where beings were more into infatuation.

They had sex only about ten times in parallel worlds but each time from thousand to million years. So perhaps their bodily urge had subsided. Their desire is now like a burnt seed.

The seed had sprung to tree definitely but in other planes and in other fashion. So now though the seedling contained all the properties of the tree but now in a burnt state .

But her beloved was locked into another universe with his tool!

How will she plan for his escape?

How will he get freedom?

These were her nightmares now!

Slowly she moved to her brother's place and had a quick chat with him about all the happenings and quantum hand.

Her brother was pleased to know that professor Lang was her boyfriend and they had intimate relation in parallel world. He told her that she is still her sister and he loves her with all her virtues and vices! He did not have any intention to correct her.

Then he surprisingly told her that Lang had once said to him that he knows about a magic hand which could travel in time and reach to other dimensions but he is not sure how long it can work independently because human beings are offering money to the hand for travelling to other worlds and correcting their morally incorrect deeds.

Till then the magical hand has sustained all the pressure but he is not sure how long it could continue to resist!

That very night a very bright light came to Mandavi's room.

It engulfed the whole room. It was soothing, golden and spiral.

The light took the shape of Professor Ivor Lang, her beloved boyfriend.

Kissed her on her forehead and said –

ET's are real but UFO's are unreal.

He had traversed multiple worlds and came to the conclusion that the earth plane was the worst. Here everything was dependent on money and selfish motives. That's why he has continued his living in another universe where there is peace and tranquility.

He would never come back here permanently. When he returns he is in a light body. A blanket of love and light was covering him.

The mechanical quantum hand has lost its vitality and effectiveness due to earthly fungus which had spread to its core slowly. It had started as he became popular and got offering of large sum of money from corrupted people in this earth plane.

Mandavi was pleased to get back her boyfriend and prince charming but did not know how to follow him now in the other side without the magical hand!

Knowing this, Professor Ivor Lang burst into laughter and said ::

“I will show you the real Mandavi and the real Lang. I am inside you and you are in the core of my being! I have learnt to decode my life energy and disintegrate into zero vibration and have found that we both are the same and are living light beams.

It was our intense physical limitations which made us believe that we are separate. Now as you know we both are the same there is no need to travel elsewhere. We can touch each other inside our own heart and engulf love forever. Love, heaven and magic all is here! So dive deep into the core of your being and find me there!!

Last but not least, this is your spiritual enlightenment or nirvana/moksha in a scientific way and with the help of realistic quantum technique instead of slow, mysterious meditation...Science means logic, proof and speed while discovering reality.

Enquire who you really are and find me everywhere in all dimensions.”

Mandavi just laughed out loud because her father was on the same path but with a touch of rigidity and boring superstitions. In the journey of love and peace he started dividing all the beings into pieces and ended up in a path full of hatred and negative vibrations.
